THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and California in detail, a selection of the best articles published in the DAILY OREGONIAN, and the corrected Market Reports, and a Weekly Review of the same.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN contains thirty-six columns of reading matter being far greater than that published in any other journal in the State, and we aim to make it the most reliable newspaper, especially in regard to that which pertains to Oregon interests.

Single copies, 12½ cents. $3 per annum mailed to any part of the United States.

The Union Convention To-Day.

In accordance with the notice of the County Committee, the delegates elected in the different precincts of Multnomah will meet at the court-house this afternoon at one o'clock. The offices to be filled at the June election, are those of Representative to the Legislative Assembly,—three in number, this year, for the first time,—Sheriff, County Recorder, who is also clerk of the various courts, Treasurer, Assessor and two County Commissioners.

We have no idea who among the multitude of aspirants for the various nominations will win success. We understand that the strategy which has been widely and persistently developed, would be creditable to old generals. The Representatives oppose the U. S. Senator, and so every candidate for that high position, desires that we should favor his chances by sending three of his friends: indeed, we hardly believe that any one can be elected at Salem, who does not receive the support of this county.

There are other important matters, however, the sight of which should not be lost by the Convention, as it surely will not be by the voters of Portland, as a new city charter will be asked for next September, and it is of great consequence that those who speak and act for the city should be able to do so with intelligence and ability. We trust that the Convention will bear this matter in mind, as well as the pressing personal claims of the distinguished gentlemen, whose ambition is covering them to ask the way and the means to go to Washington.

As to the other nominations, we hope and believe the Convention will try to do its duty. Our own impression generally in regard to county officers is, that an incumbent, who has proved himself "honest, faithful and capable," ought not to be removed simply to please a seeker, whose integrity, fidelity and capacity are not sure to equal those of the present officer. We presume no one will object to this doctrine, or claim that because we state a common and just principle in politics, we prefer the selection of the present officers. The true rule is, let every man stand on his own merits, and if a new one is as good as the old, and his popularity is likely to make his election more certain, we agree to his choice, for his merits deserve it.

HOW ARE THE NATIONS OF EUROPE CONCERNED? It may yet appear that both the massacre of Fort Pillow and the raid of Dahlgren were not all that common report has made them. Should they both be true, and retaliation resolved upon each for the other, it will be the beginning of an era of blood too disgraceful and revolting for the nations of Europe to long look upon with indifference.—Marysville Express.

We cannot see how a foreigner has any business to interfere, because the American Government sees fit to revenge the cruel and infamous murder of soldiers fighting in its behalf, after they had surrendered—or what right any tyrannical or rival nation abroad has to find fault because it seems expedient to make a raid—always justifiable as a movement of strategy—against the city of Richmond, the stronghold of rebellion, which for more than three years has wickedly defied the power of the Government to which it owes allegiance. The talk of rebel sympathizers about foreign interference, because protection is given to our troops against assassins—not soldiers—or, because we take Richmond or seek to do so, in any way we please, is supremely absurd and only worthy of its treasonable source.

GRAND UNION RALLY.—Our candidate for Congress, Rev. Mr. Henderson, will address the citizens of Portland, in accordance with the course of his appointments at one o'clock, P. M. The place of speaking has not been named to us, but wherever it may be, let there be a noble and patriotic crowd, to listen to the lofty eloquence, splendid arguments and thorough loyalty of our distinguished candidate. It is unfortunate that the hour is that fixed for the County Convention. An arrangement ought to be made.

GENERAL BUTLER'S CHANCES.—The versatile and all accomplished George Wilkes, editor of a New York sporting paper, who seems to be equally at home on all subjects, and who speaks with the same oracular air, whether discussing the amenities of the prize ring, the mysteries of military science, or the knotty problems of politics, thus expatiates on the Presidential prospects of General Butler:

General Butler, the only candidate who divides with him the debris of the Chase adherents, though lacking some of the popular qualities of the Pathfinder, commands the loyal with an equal power, and concentrates in a very large degree the intellectual patriotism of the country. Having won his great triumphs by appeals to the intellect alone, and "coming upon the people" more recently than Gen. Fremont, he has not made that headway with the radical masses which he has effected with the higher intelligence of the people, and may therefore prove to be less formidable than Fremont at Baltimore. There are those, however, who, taking another view of Butler, regard his ultimate prospects for the approaching Presidential term as better than those of any other candidate. Those calculators credit the conquerer of Louisiana with two chances for a nomination—first from the Baltimore Convention, and, failing that, from the nomination of the War Democracy of Tammany Hall, who are now split from the Peace traitors and are hunting up a candidate. It is argued that Butler is a rigid Old Line Democrat; that, though he has shown no mercy to the rebels, he has never embraced any other platform, and that having made slavery "contraband of war," he is the only man who can restore to the Democracy their abandoned principles of universal liberty to mad. With the Tammany nomination, it is argued, he could sweep the country like a political simoon, and restore the ascendancy of the reorganized Democracy for a further lease of full fifty years.

A FITTING AND BEAUTIFUL FIGURE.—The Rev. Mr. Chaney, of the Hollis street Church, closed his discourse in memory of his predecessor, with the following passage. To those who know how identified with the White Hills, as their historian and eulogist, Mr. King was, the appropriateness of the illustration will be as striking as its tender beauty is attractive:

A few weeks since, I climbed one of his mounts of vision in the far north, and sought to view the mountain range he knew so well, and loved so lingeringly. The healthful glow of the day's course reddened the western sky, and I thought to catch an answering blush upon the hills. But when I turned my eyes towards them they lay along the horizon, cold and gray and silent. Then gazing upward, I saw the eastern heavens all aflame with answering fire, and in the promise of the sky, I forgot the heartless look of earth.

So, friends, we have stood, gazing at the western sky and dazzled by its golden splendors, when all the while the laboring sun was going down. And, when we turned, the glory had vanished from the earth. But look above! The glory encampeth in the heavens. If earth be sad, heaven hath now brightness; and out of its deep peace I hear the old parting benediction, "The Lord be with you!" Let your hearts silently respond, "And with thy spirit!"

THE REV. DR. BELLOWS AND FAMILY.—The Rev. Mr. Bellows arrived on the steamer Constitution last Wednesday. In a private letter the Doctor says: "In addition to my family, I am accompanied by my Secretary, the Rev. H. C. Badger, a Unitarian minister from the first parish in New Bedford—a man of 30, earnest, eloquent and able to act as my lieutenant in California." He brings his family he says "to give them the advantages of the voyage and the education and pleasure of a visit to your now famous State; where the country and the population contend with each other in generosity and in charm. Perhaps mine is the first family that has deliberately gone to California to see the beauties of nature and the glories of the soil and climate as others go to Europe. But I am sure it will not be the last. I anticipate a great education as well as a delightful treat in visiting all parts of the State." He further says: "I want to do all my health and strength will allow for the National, the Sanitary, and the Christian cause in the six months allotted to me."

THE THIRD OR CONQUERING STAGE OF THE WAR.—After three years of kindness and attempted conciliation, an inexorable war of conquest has been determined to be waged, simply as war having solely for its object the annihilation of opposing forces. This it is understood, is the plan of Gen. Grant, who keeps all political aspects entirely out of sight in his plans to prosecute hostilities. He will hurl his great armies upon the vital points of of the rebellious districts with the intention of effecting the unconditional subjugation of the enemy, while amnesty, pardon and the restoration of the civil government will be left for after consideration. We now have a prospect of winning the fight for liberty and union.

THE DAILY AMERICAN FLAG.—This admirably printed and very good looking sheet, hailing from San Francisco, whither its enterprising publisher, D. O. McCarthy, lately moved from Sonora, Cal., we gladly welcome to our exchange list. Its editor has a way of saying things in more decided terms than some people deem courteous. He "plays on a harp of a thousand strings," but there is no tune from him that is not true to the music of the Union.

The Hillsboro Delegates to the Washington County Convention are, R. E. Wiley, Wm. R Everson, Thomas Stewart, Geo. Smith, A. G. Towner, Jos. L. Meeks, R. Wilcox, Ed. Ross, R. C. Baldro and B. Schofield.

THE NEWS.—A war cloud is in the sky, and keeps spreading. It must burst before long, and rain upon us a deluge of blood. Lee, with 80,000 or a 100,000 troops, is couchant in his old position on the Rapidan, watching his opportunities for a spring or a retreat, as the case may be. He knows the tone and temper of the Federal General with whom he has to deal, and dare not let an opportunity go by unimproved. There is a wariness and a secrecy about Gen. Grant's movements which agitate and confuse him. That the blow will be struck, he knows full well, but where it is to fall, and how he is to avoid its effect, are the questions which perplex him.

General Grant is calling in and massing his forces. When he advances, it will be with an army sufficiently strong to do up the work before him. If forts are to be dismantled, strategic points deserted, or troops withdraw from places where their presence is actually necessary, let it be done. We want no more humiliating repulses or doubtful victories on the Potomac line. If a victory overwhelming and decisive is to be denied us, it were better the army were scattered, to re-assemble at some other place, than in front of Washington, where it has never yet achieved results commensurate with its magnitude or its bravery. —Daily American Flag.

A CURIOSITY.—Last week we found a diamond in the gutter. Here it is—a piece of brightness and beauty picked out of the sewer. Hereafter, who can say that silken purses may not be made out of sows' ears?

"We would therefore earnestly call the attention of Congress to the fact that there is only one way in which this slavery question may be decisively and permanently settled by universal emancipation and that now is the opportunity for this great achievement. This way is pointed out in the Federal Constitution, and is simply an amendment, declaring slavery abolished throughout the United States.

* * * * * *

"Here, then, the amendment suggested, passed by a two-third vote in each house of Congress, and ratified by the Legislatures, or by conventions of three-fourths of the States of the Union, will abolish slavery at once and forever throughout the length and breadth of the land. And why not? The institution, so long as it exists, can never be anything hereafter except a source of mischief to all concerned. Its usefulness to the South is destroyed: its evils as a fountain of bitter waters, are all that is left of it. Let Congress pass the amendment indicated, with a reasonable compensation to loyal slaveholders, and the ratification of the States will soon follow.

* * * * * *

"Let Congress, then, apply the remedy suggested, and, before the end of the year this vexing and perplexing question of slavery may be settled constitutionally, decisively and for ever. And this is the only way to settle it. Nor can there be a shadow of a doubt that the man who puts this ball in motion in Congress will be the commanding spirit of the Union restored."—Leading Editorial in the New York Herald, of Feb. 6th.

GERRIT SMITH'S PRIZE.—Gerrit Smith sends the following letter to the Committee, in answer to their announcement that he had drawn the President's Proclamation on of Freedom:

PETERSBORO, March 12, 1864.

WILLIAM BARNES, ESQ., Chairman, etc., My dear Sir:—I have your letter announcing the gratifying fact that I have drawn the precious prize.

I have never been proud of owning houses and lands, but I confess that I am somewhat elated by being the owner of this glorious Proclamation of Freedom, in the very form in which it came from our President's strong and honest hand.

Various suggestions respecting my disposition of the grand paper have already been made to me. But I feel bound to adhere to my purpose when I purchased the tickets. That purpose was to let it go to the individual or association that would pay the largest price for it to the Sanitary Commission. As I believe the putting down of this infernal rebellion to be our highest and holiest work, so I recognize no other claims upon my possessions to be as strong as that of the soldiers who are prosecuting this work. But the claim of the Sanitary Commission is the claim of the soldiers—since it is the tender and faithful nurse of such of them as fall in the way from wounds or sickness.

You will please retain the proclamation in your office until the purchaser shall call for it.

Your friend,
GERRIT SMITH.

WHAT AN OLD SALT LAKE LEECHER SAID ABOUT WOMEN.—An inquiring visitor to the great Mormon city, asked Elder Heber C. Kimball how "the church" could supply the Mormon male increase with a sufficient quantity of wives.

"Why," said the old man, twinkling his little black eyes like a godly Silenus and nursing one of his fat legs with a liquorish smile, "isn't the Lord Almighty providin' for His beloved just as fast as he can ways 'kin? This war's a-goin' on till the biggest part o' you male Gentiles hez killed each other off, then the feetle handful that's left and come a-fleein' to our asylum, 'll bring all the women 'o the nation along with 'em, and so we shall hev women enough to give every one on 'em all they want and hev a large balance left over to distribute round among God's saints that hes been here from the beginnin' 'o the tribulation."

The sweet taste which this diabolical reflection seemed to leave in Heber Kimball's mouth made me long to knock him down worse than I had ever felt regarding either saint or sinner. But it is costly to smite an apostle of the Lord in Salt Lake City, and I merely retaliated by telling him I wished I could hear him say that to a lecture room full of Sanitary Commission ladies scraping lint for their husbands, sweethearts and brothers in the Union army. I did not know whether saints made good lint, but I thought I knew one who'd get scraped a little.

Sanitary Society at Eola.

EOLA, Polk Co., May 2, 1864.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I hereby transmit to you for publication an account of the organization and permanent establishment of a Sanitary Society at this place, hoping that other sections of the country may be induced to engage in a similar enterprise.

On the 3d of March the Rev. H. M. Waller delivered a lecture in behalf of the Sanitary Commission, but owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, very few were in attendance. At his suggestion the fourth Sabbath of the month was appointed for organizing a permanent Society. A goodly number were in attendance, and the meeting proceeded to organize by electing the following officers:

Rev. H. M. Waller, Chaplain; J. L. Ladd, President; A. J. Steves, Secretary; Lot Livermore, Treasurer.

The Eolian Thespian Society made a tender of $108, which was received. The total amount of funds received by the Society amounts to $140.

By order of the Society,
A. J. STEVES, Sec'y.

FERNANDO WOOD AS A SHINING MARK.—This individual has introduced a resolution in the National House of Representatives to restrain the working of the mineral lands of Colorado and Arizona until provisions be made by the Government for their working and settlement. We wonder he had not included the mines of Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho. But these, being farther off, the great Fernando may not have heard of them. If some supporter of the Administration had introduced such a resolution what a howl the San Francisco Press and the Marysville Express would have raised, but it being introduced by the gentle and peaceful Fernando, we suppose they will be silent.

"Saith the great Fernando:
What can a man do
More than he can do"

To kill the goose which lays the golden egg that fills the coffers of the National Treasury, and thereby enables the nation to make successful war against the Confederacy?—Territorial Enterprise.

HOW FORTUNES ARE MADE.—On Thursday last $120,054 in gold was paid into the Custom House for duties on a single entry of pepper, on the account of a Boston firm. It is believed that this is the largest amount ever paid into the Custom House on a single entry. About three months ago the owners placed the pepper in bonded warehouse with a view of realizing $150,000 by the anticipated increase in value. They succeeded in the operation, the net profits amounting to not less than $100,000.—New York Sun, March 26th.

The Progress of Opinion.

If we had time to think of it, there is nothing so extraordinary as the present state of the emancipation question in the United States. It is becoming plain to the dullest of comprehension among us that slavery is dead. Even Brooks, in Congress, gives mournful assent to the fact. Gov. Hall, of Missouri, signs the law calling a convention in that State to bring about immediate emancipation, instead of waiting the term of years already the law there. The New York Herald plants itself on the emancipation policy; and is probably as sincere as it is capable of being in regard to anything. And the National House of Representatives commands a goodly majority for every question which puts a general or partial question of freedom to slaves fairly on the record.

When we remember how stiffly this matter has been fought by copperheads and conservatives of every stripe, up to the last few weeks even; and how to a recent date all the advantage gained in the direction of emancipation, have been in the shape of secondary or incidental questions, and not on the direct question itself, it seems more like a dream than a reality. True, it was announced in the beginning of the war, that it must destroy slavery. But this declaration expressed more often a feeling than any distinct perception, or even expectation. Many uttered it who meant after all to do all they could to hinder it; and of such as hoped for its truth, the fears of many that it would somehow fail to prove true, outnumbered their expectations. Too long had we been accustomed to be bullied and outraged on every question of freedom, that both its friends and foes had come to consent together that slavery was perpetual, so far as any sure probability of its extinction was concerned. And in so far as a confident existed, with those who hoped to see the end of it, it was a faith rather than a sight.

But the fact, like old John Brown's soul has been constantly "marching on," from the very beginning. The very fact that the rebels had made war, determined a large number, on the instant. Gen. Butler from casting thirty six—or fifty-six, or possibly more consecutive bullets for Jefferson Davis, to be the new President of the United States, declared, that if the South made war, the North would fight her, and he was one of the North; and that a war would destroy slavery; and in a year's time he had on the harness. And from the day that he took the sword he has acted upon the theory of his prophecy.

But while a multitude in the same political position went with Butler, a multitude hung back, slavery was too sacred a thing to be meddled with. They had worshipped the old smoky demon so long, that it was venerable in their eyes. Had not slavery always existed in our country; and did not our Fathers, and the blessed Washington himself, uphold it? If we pulled that down would not the whole fabric tumble.

Besides, what was it that had been profitable if not Slavery? Where were cotton, and sugar, and the Southern trade without it? And were not these Southern slaveholders glorious fellows? Who would come North for travel and money spending, if their craft were broken up. And then, were not the slaves black; and was not Ham a vile fellow, and did not Canaan get eternally cursed. And so, between these fears and superstitions, and the smell of Egyptian garlic, a motley crew, of old Hunkers and Silver Greys, and fossilized men of many persuasions, have singly and in packs fought on, determining that come what would, the old Dragon should not be pulled down. At every shot that struck it, they raised a howl. As its legs and arms got broken, and the splinters flew like rain, their frenzy was unbounded. Its indignities drew their curses; and its misfortunes their tears.

But neither threats, curses nor tears could stop the destruction. From the day the war began, slavery began to die. Every shell that exploded set loose a bevy of chattelized Africans. Each minie bullet set a pair of black legs running. Each march of an army enfranchised a district. The whole army became abolitionists. To send a boy to the army was to make a Wilberforce. Abolitionism gloamed from every bayonet, and spoke with every musket shot. It made orations at Shiloh, and Donelson, and Murfreesboro, and Vicksburg. The Potomac army played "conservative," and the Potomac army was humbled. McClellan blocked the wheels of emancipation, and he got run over and poked aside. Lincoln held back till he saw ruin in every way but that. But the hour he uttered his Proclamation of Freedom, success perched upon his banners, and has never left him till this day. The path through the Red Sea was the only one that was safe, and that has been as the dry land.

Now, we have got over the crest of the hill; the crisis of emancipation, as a fact, is passed. Its enemies are giving it up, and joining in with the multitude that decree it. And those who have watched the tides of public opinion in this country for the past twenty years will know what now to expect. Freedom—freedom to all, black as well as white—will be the most popular thing the nation has known since the Revolution. When a great course of public policy is once understood to be decided on, it is wonderful how the people in this nation fall in with it. Thus the old Whig party gave up, one after another, the great measures for which they had fought many a political campaign—high tariff, national bank, and sub-treasury included. Thus the nation had settled on subserviency to slavery, though they abhorred the thing by itself.

Now, then, that freedom is decreed, only give the people to see that it is a settled thing, as sure to come as the day to dawn, and those who oppose it will be as owls in the day time; you will have to hunt them in impenetrable thickets. Vallandighams will be like serpents bottled in museums; Voorhees's as the tusks of wild boars, laid up on shelves, rare and curious; while the Woods and Cox's will go into the garret, among dry and useless herbs. Heaven speed the day.—Chicago Tribune.

SANITARY FUND RECEIPTS.—From Lot Livermore, Treasurer of the Eola Sanitary Society, by the hands of J. L. Ladd, $98 in currency and $73 in coin. Contributed at H. M. POINT BONITA.—We had the pleasure of a call to this notable point, and can safely recommend those patent life preservers of Houston, Hastings & Co., for one of the party would have been drowned but for the aid of their life preserving vest.

STUFF INSTEAD OF BUTTER.—A Maine paper says:

"People are getting into the habit of using syrups as a substitute for butter. It is found easier to contract such a habit than to form the habit of paying fifty cents a pound for butter. Many of the boarding houses find it impossible to procure butter. One of the grocers sent a runner one hundred miles into the country for butter, and succeeded only in procuring one tub."

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE.—That Shelby has received by this steamer the finest assorted stock of Boots and Shoes that has ever before been offered in this market. An ocular demonstration would convince you of the fact. See to it, and consult your interest.

JEWEL,
This Day, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Mr. R. Hockaday stated that he was induced to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs from the recommendation of others. He gave it to a child eleven months old; also used it in his family generally, for coughs and colds, and in every instance found immediate relief, and that he would not be without it. Mr. J. B. Millor states that he used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs with great benefit to himself; he was entirely relieved of a severe cough. His neighbor was bleeding at the Lungs, to whom he administered a part of one bottle and it entirely cured him. Mr. John Davis was cured of a severe cough, and also gave it to his infant child for the whooping cough, and says it is the medicine of medicines. Mr. James W. Harden of Rock Castle wished it proclaimed everywhere that his daughter, aged sixteen years, was severely afflicted with cough and bleeding at the Lungs for seven months. She was cured sound and well by using part of one bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Mr. Wm. Harden testifies that his wife was greatly afflicted with cough, and suffering much with pain in her breast and side; also her little daughter, aged two years, had so greatly suffered with phthisic that her life was despaired of. Both mother and daughter found immediate relief in using Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. These are a few of the many testimonials I have received in favor of your great Lung Remedy, and if you desire, I can send many more which have come to my knowledge. Respectfully yours, I. D. SMITH, Richmond, Ky., July 15, 1856. Sold by REDINGTON & CO., 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco, who are also agents for the Public Coast for the sale of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, and we would direct the attention of those who suffer from scrofula, eruptions, or any other impurity in the blood, to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, as it will cleanse the blood and permanently eradicate from the system the cause of the disease, thereby restoring health and vivacity to the system. Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is compounded upon scientific principles and with great care. We do not pretend it is a cure all, nor that in all cases, and under all circumstances, it is absolutely infallible. Common sense teaches us that the day of Miracles has passed, but science and facts remain, and on the strength of these we call attention to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. The noble science of medicine is controlled by the same powers which govern the entire world. Were the invalid patients simply to take this medicine for short time, in cases of goitre, syphilitic or scrofulous tumors, ulceration of the bones, etc., and then drop it, they would receive from it but very little good; for unless persevered in the money expended for it is comparatively thrown away, nobody is benefited, the disease remains uncured; and the reputation of the medicine is injured. The action of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is through the agency of the absorbent vessels, which constitute the receiving or taking up certain substances known as pus or poisonous principles, and removing them from the diseased parts through the secretions and exhalants, until they are carried from the system; at the same time good blood is transported through the vessels to the diseased parts of the body. So soon as a boat from above appears in sight of Celilo, the fact will be reported by telegraph to the Dalles, and a train of cars immediately sent to meet them, and by the time the passengers are fairly landed at Celilo, they can step into the cars for the Dalles. The instruments to be used for the transmission of telegrams are of the simplest description, well known as dial instruments, with alphabet indicators, and are in common use East for metropolitan police purposes.

Two good Sailors.—A party of gentlemen in sedentary habits, chartered one of the fine passenger sail boats that are so numerous along our wharves, and concluded to have a good time on the river, yesterday afternoon. The wind was fair, and the ride was in every sense a success—they handled the rigging in first rate style, tacked up and down and across the river, exhibiting great skill, as supposed, by those on shore, and nobody would have felt within that they were a set of "jolly tars," only for a little mishap at the sequel, when one of the crew measured his length in the river, which caused a crowd together to witness the laughable manner in which they undertook to make the little craft fast. They really turned out to be poor sailors.

Fire.—A fire occurred in the rear of J. G. Jones' store, on the corner of Front and Taylor streets yesterday. The room was occupied as a family kitchen, and the fire originated near the stove, spreading over the wall and ceiling like a flash. It was speedily subdued, doing but a trifling amount of damage. The cause of the fire was not clearly known, although it is supposed to have been caused by a match, in the hands of a child. It needed but a few moments more to have kindled a fire of large proportions, as all the neighboring houses on that block are of wood, and quite combustible at the present time being dry, and covered with light shingles.

A New Hotel.—The site of the Monitor Hotel, corner of Front and Alder street, has given rise to a fine structure, three stories high, 73 feet front by 100 feet deep, building under the supervision of Mr. P. Sinnott, late of the Columbian, and to be occupied by him as a hotel. There will be no better arranged house in the State than this one, for light and air, having large halls and plenty of windows on all sides. Of one thing, in this connection, we feel certain: Portland will soon have ample accommodations for the inner man, and none will stand on the street corners for want of a meal, if they can raise the requisite four or six bits.

Our Fire Department.—Portland has probably as good firemen as can be "scared up" anywhere, a fact which was amplified on Monday, by a run to the fire on Taylor street. The house occupied in reaching the spot from the furthest Engine house, with machine and hose carriage, did not exceed five minutes after the alarm had been given, while No. 1 and No. 4 were each taking station at the cistern, corner of Front and Taylor streets, in less than three minutes from the tap of the alarm.

Organization of an Artillery Company. At a meeting held last evening at the Court House, pursuant to previous notice, for the purpose of organizing an artillery company, the following officers were elected:

Captain, F. C. Payne; First Lieut., A. Rosenheim; Second Lieut., I. Bergman; First Sergeant, W. N. Ladd; Second Sergeant, B. Berry; 1st Corporal, Thos. Potter; 2d Corporal, J. S. Guild; 3d Corporal, Jas. Bailey; 4th Corporal, W. R. Shaw; Treasurer, Jas. Lowe, Secretary, W. N. Patton.

The Willamette is still rapidly rising, in spite of the rise in the Columbia. The current is scarcely perceptible in front of the city, and drift wood hugs sluggishly near to the shore, on both sides. Steamers lay at their wharves pointing towards the mouth, and piers are being submerged; all indications point to the filling of a large basin with water.

Suit for Damages.—Suit was brought before Justice Gray yesterday by Mr. Tosier, for the recovery of damages from an assault made upon him by Mitchell, some ten days ago. Judgement was rendered for $50 and costs of suit. Motion was made by defendants counsel for an appeal to the Circuit Court.

Stock Operations.—Transactions in stock have been rather limited recently, except so far as relates to "horned stock," which continues to go up—the Columbia, at rates fluctuating between the steamer Julia and the steamer Rescue.

The bark Helen W. Almy will leave this port to day, touching at Springville, where she will take on 2500 bushels of oats, and proceed to Rainier, there to load with lumber for San Francisco.

Fraud.—We are informed by persons from the country that the recent cold nights have injured the prospects of the fruit crop to a certain extent. Grapes, and other varieties were badly nipped in this city.

No Telegraph News.—We are without telegraphic dispatches this morning; the wire burned between Yreka and Calahan's yesterday, making seven breaks this week.

The steamer New World carried thirty-five passengers and ninety tons of freight to the Dalles yesterday, returning with about twenty passengers.

Treasure.—The treasure express received by Wells, Fargo & Co. last evening amounted to about $35,000.

Closed.—The Congregational Church is closed for repairs, hence there will be no services to-morrow.

Weakness of the Kidneys.—In the affection of the kidneys, called "Bright's disease," the general prostration and lumbar weakness generally resist all medical treatment, and the patient sinks slowly, but surely into the grave. If disorganization has not proceeded too far, the PERUVIAN SYRUP will arrest the granular disease, and restore the patient to comfortable if not perfect health.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26dlm

MARKET REPORT AND REVIEW.

Friday morning, May 6th.

The receipts of produce from the surrounding country have been fair during the past week.

Sales of apples have been frequent at prices running from 67½ cents to $1 per bushel, owing to quality and condition. One lot shown assorted sold at $1 25 per bushel, which was immediately forwarded to San Francisco, per stmr. Pacific. The last importations per stmr. Brother Jonathan, at San Francisco, sold readily at $3@$5 per box for those in order; inferior brought about $3 15—say 10 cents per lb for the best quality.

Supplies of potatoes have been freely offered in the streets from wagons at from 33 to 35 cents per bushel.

The prices of last week have been maintained for bacon brought to market by producers, the ruling figures being 16 cents per lb for sides and hams.

No change is reported in the price of grains. The following from the California Farmer of April 18th, shows the present state of the California grain market:

"At present there is no demand for wheat, other than milling. Shippers and Speculators having left the market, the decline although material, we think must soon be less. Our local demand is not sufficient to consume the offerings if holders decide to sell, as they now appear willing to do, and continue to press the market, shippers' prices will soon be reached. In view of the bright and glorious prospects of the future crops, an account of which so much uneasiness was felt a short time since, and the positive information of a large surplus of the old crop on hand, croakers and the timid feel more easy, and in a measure dispel their anxiety. Feed and feed grains are less active, prices having receded."

We have no change to report in prices asked by our dealers.

The President's Gun

The following beautiful song by W D Gallegher Esq was read at the meeting held in St Louis to ratify the President s Proclamation

Ratify ratify —to ratify what?
The President s Proclamation
The heaviest gun that it has yet been fired
At the enemies of freedom
"Dahlgrens" or Union rifles are nothing like it,
Those enemies to slay
It ranges and carr es o er all the whole land
From one extreme to the other

Hurrah hurrah for the President s gun—
Well named The Proclamation
'Twas made of the material of stern resolve
And run in the heart of the nation
Already the cheeks of secession pale
Are white as their stuff o ers
For they find that their fabled corner-stone
Was made of a rock that is rotten

Hence forth let the free dent s gun advance
With the sermons of truth in
And morning and evening they ll all salute
The ratified Proclamation
And in future years as the Stars and Stripes
In peace float out from the
We ll drive to teach the wrong hosts,
Who hate it now to love it

REBEL IDEA OF FIGHTING THE DEVIL WITH FIRE —The attempt to burn Richmond was no worse than the attempt which is going on day after day and night after night to burn Charleston One was to have been done with fire balls, turpentine and torpedoes; the other is attempted to be done with bombshells and Greek fire—one by the manual application of the torch, the other by the projectile force of artillery What is the difference in point of morality? The attempt upon Richmond, is, indeed, more purely wanton and devilish than that on Charleston, for in the former city there are no prisoners released, no such important public establishments to be destroyed as here, no such high functionaries to be disposed of nor would the destruction of Charleston give the enemy the least military advantage, for the batteries of Beauregard would still interpose their veto to the foe We repeat, therefore, that what has been attempted against Richmond is no worse than what for months has been going on against Charleston The attempt here was probably induced by the submission and humility with which the enemy saw we bore it there The two together, with the additional light from the blazing roofs of numerous villages and countless barns, mills and residences, wherever the savages have been make it clear as the sun at noonday that the enemy have adopted the torch as a regular instrument of war.

Now, what we desire to direct the attention of the Government authorities to is the fact that it is not only lawful to fight the enemy with the weapon he employs, but it is idiotic to fight him with any less effective, if that weapon can be obtained No law, human or divine, requires a man to defend himself with any less force, or by any less efficient means, than are employed for his injury or destruction The enemy having introduced the system of burning cities we must burn cities too We come out plainly and say exactly what we mean. It is a game in which we have all the advantage We can do the enemy a hundred fold more damage than they can do us. Their cities are far larger, far more numerous, and the centers of vastly more wealth than ours We may not, it is true, be able to send a raiding party to dash into Philadelphia or New York to do the work, nor have we artillery that will carry Greek fire far enough to reach them, but we have that which will go further than horsemen can ride, and will penetrate what the mightiest artillery would make no impression on—we have money A million of dollars would lay in ashes New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburg, Washington and all their chief cities, and the men to do the business may be picked up by the hundreds in the streets of those very cities If it should be thought unsafe to use them, there are daring men in Canada of Morgan's and other commands, who have escaped from Yankee dungeons, and would rejoice at an opportunity of doing a thing that would make all Yankeedom howl with anguish and consternation That what we are saying may be given a still more practical turn, we will add that we know and have talked with a man —a well known officer of the army, and every way competent and fit—who is ready and anxious at once to proceed to Canada on this business He knows the risks he will encounter, but he is sure of the results that will be achieved

We have addressed ourselves to the authorities of the Government because we feel not the shadow of a doubt that this mode of warfare would, under the circumstances, be justifiable legitimate and right But should they reject the plan, as we suppose they would, then we wish to remind the public that the scheme can be as well executed by private enterprise as by the direction or connivance of the authorities Richmond, for whom such a fate was designed, Charleston every day witnessed the disposition of the enemy in this regard, and hourly experienced the hazard of having their purpose achieved, could easily raise the money needed for the accomplishment of the design Money will supply the men, and they, properly organized and directed, would easily and certainly do the work —Richmond Whig, March 9th

A LITTLE JOKE OF OLD ABE—"HAMLET" PLAYED WITHOUT THE PRINCE —Washington correspondence of the New York Herald, says

An amusing scene was witnessed at the grand military dinner given at the Executive Mansion in honor of Lieut Gen Grant soon after his arrival here After the guests had assembled and a brilliant array of well known military men appeared, in accordance with the President's invitation, to assist in the ceremonies of the evening, it was found, to the surprise of every body, that Gen Grant was not there He had suddenly taken wings for the West Everybody looked very much disappointed Among the Major Generals present were Halleck Meade, Wool, McCook, Crittenden, Sickles, Hunter, Burnside, Blair, Doubleday, Oglesby, Wallace and others When it was announced that Grant was not coming, the Generals looked at the President and the President at the Generals Presently Lincoln said "Gentlemen this is the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out We expected Grant here, but he could'nt stay." The company had assembled, however, the curtain was raised and the play must go on But who would play the part of Hamlet? In plainer language, a Lieut General was expected, but he would not be present Old Abe, seeing the difficulty, said that if it was necessary to have a Hamlet, he would call upon Gen Halleck, at short notice, as the managers say, to fill the part Halleck, who wore three stars on each shoulder, put on a most complacent appearance, and "kindly consented" to assume the role of the principal character And so the play went on, with Halleck as Hamlet

SHORT RATIONS —A half furnished fellow in the Southern States tells of a baker whose loaves had been growing "smaller by degrees and beautifully less," who, when going his rounds to serve customers, stopped at the door of one and knocked, when the lady within exclaimed, "Who's there?" and was answered, "the baker" "What do you want?" "To leave your bread" "Well, you need not make such a fuss about it—put it through the keyhole!"

THE HAT-ON-OR-OFF SWEARING QUESTION The Hebrew (Jewish organ) of April 20th remarks

We learn from reliable authority that W R. Wheaton the City and County Assessor requires members of the Jewish Church to swear to their schedule of personal property with their hats on Whilst we acknowledge that it is the Jewish custom to cover the head in reverence for the name of the Almighty there is no authority for any official to compel that or any other observance in administering an oath and it is a piece of official impertinence as well as an unwarrantable liberty for the Assessor or any one else so to act The law does not prescribe any special form of oath for the Jew, Catholic, Protestant or Quaker, and if a Jew, in swearing complies with the form which he considers most binding on his conscience he fully conforms with the law. The County Assessor made the demand on Louis Cohn who is not alone a popular and prominent man among his co religionists, but with the whole community, that he should swear with his hat on. Cohn replied that he was the proper person to elect in what manner he should take an oath, as he held the same to be one binding on his conscience and his moral status He preferred not being dictated to, and swore without his hat The County Assessor remarked that Cohn's statement would be received without the oath, as he knew him for years; but at the same time he wrote at the bottom of the statement sworn to by Cohn, 'Sworn with his hat off" The city had better provide Sopher Torah for the Hebrews a large cross for the Catholics, and a new version of the Bible for the Protestants, and classify men of property by their religion, if such outrageous conduct on the part of officials is to be sustained

WASHINGTON TERRITORY — An Episcopal clergyman writes to an Eastern paper thus "Can you explain why it is that the loud repeated calls for laborers in Oregon, Washington and Idaho meet no response among the clergy? Even the secular press expresses astonishment that such crowds of people as congregate in the mining districts and towns should be left without any Christian ministrations Why are there not as many candidates for a Mission as there are for a comfortable rectorship? Take, as an example, Puget Sound, with Olympia, Port Townsend, Seattle, and a half dozen other points, could one desire an ampler field? At the first named place the ladies held a fair, and realized some six hundred dollars, and at the second place they have a vigorous Sunday school, and yet the only ministrations are Sunday school and lay reading At those two points a clergyman would receive a warm welcome and cordial co operation At several other lumbering ports, where there are no ministrations, a goodly number would gladly attend"

TOO COMMON —It would be disgusting, says Quilp, if it were'nt so amusing, to observe the exclusive airs of some of our misses who have not yet passed their teens "I don't like to ride in the horse cars," said one of these small aristocrats to her companion, as they emerged from a car in Washington street, "I can't bear 'em—they are so common!" Gracious Heaven, protect her! Will she object to being married, bye and bye, because weddings are so common? Alas! little snobess you will soon learn that all the best things in the world, as well as many of the worst, are so common

"Why is it," asked a Frenchman of a Switzer, "that you Swiss always fight for money, while we French only fight for honor?" "I suppose," said the Switzer, 'that each fights for what they most lack"

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCovery of modern chemistry and it is impossible to overestimate its influence as a remedial agent Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation it remained almost useless until Dr Henry Anders a physician and chemist of New York after years of patient labor and experiment discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER

without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr J R Chilton of this city and Prof Booth U S Mint Philadelphia The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6 1856, page 76)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine The patient recovers flesh strength and color hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full strong and florid
